

DESERT ROCK EQUIPMENT CHECKLIST

This list was designed for the “worst case scenario,” a trip with significant inclement weather. In serious conditions it’s not uncommon for a climber to need every piece of clothing and equipment on this list. However, if a program does not encounter significant weather, there may be items here that are not used. As you prepare for your trip, it’s important to plan for the worst and hope for the best.

At the start of the day, your guide will ensure that everyone is adequately prepared for the day. They will also be able to refine your day pack to make sure that you bring exactly what’s needed given the forecast. It is acceptable to bring too much clothing or equipment to your initial meeting. And it is acceptable to bring things that you have questions about. Extra equipment can always be left behind in the van.

Red Rock, NV: The Red Rock Canyon National Conservation Area is located in the high desert about 20 miles west of Las Vegas. In the spring (March and April) and the Fall (October and November), when climbing conditions are at their best, daytime highs often climb to 80°F with nighttime lows near 40°F to 50°F. The winters are normally cool and snow often covers the ground deep in the shaded canyon floors. Rain or snow occasionally falls, but the vast majority of days are sunny and fair. The weather can be breezy, especially high on rock routes.

Joshua Tree, CA: Joshua Tree National Park is located in the high desert of Southern California. The winters are generally cool with highs in the 60’s and lows at night in the 30’s. Rain, or even snow, occasionally falls, but most days are sunny and pleasant. Routes in the shade are often too cold in the middle of the winter, but those in the sun seem just right. The weather can be breezy, and it is a good idea to bring a lightweight wind jacket.

Rentals: Equipment that is available for rent through the AAI is designated with a “Rent” check box. These items must be requested for rent and paid for prior to your trip start, this can be done either via email (sw-coordinator@alpineinstitute.com) or phone (360-671-1505).

Call or Email the Equipment Shop for Advice on Gear: Please feel free to contact the shop to help you get ready for your trip. We also offer free 30 min gear consultations through our gear shop for this course. To schedule a gear consultation, click here. Your comfort and safety depend on being well equipped. Whether you get your gear from us or just get advice, we’re here to help you prepare.

Soft Shell Jacket or Windproof Jacket

A soft shell jacket is considered an "action layer." Its materials are designed to stretch and breathe while also maintaining wind and water resistance. This allows the user to leave this jacket on for a wide range of temps and conditions throughout the day without the hassle of constantly changing layers.

Windproof jackets are lightweight and packable, but lack the breathability and stretchy nature of the soft shell. Windproof jackets are ideal for blocking wind and light precipitation during low output activities.
